ABOUT THE WORK

Description: Whispers of the Sea captures the tension between movement and memory—a layered abstract landscape where oceanic blues, mineral greens, and weathered earth tones converge in sweeping, tidal motion. Rich textures and translucent washes evoke eroded coastlines and shifting currents, while suggesting the quiet force of water shaping stone over time. As light moves across the multidimensional surface, subtle details emerge and recede, creating an ever-changing conversation between serenity and underlying energy.

Inspiration: The inspiration for Whispers of the Sea came from my fascination with the ocean's ever-changing nature. I am drawn to the way waves, currents, and tides create a constant interplay between movement and stillness, while quietly reshaping the coastline over time. There is a beautiful contrast between the ocean's calming presence and the powerful forces moving beneath its surface. I wanted to capture that contrast through layers of color, rich textures, and flowing forms that echo the meeting of water, stone, and earth. For me, the piece reflects the ocean's quiet voice—a reminder that even the gentlest forces can leave a lasting impression.
